Boutique Manufacturer of Fine Handcrafted Brass Furnishings

Louis XV Collection

Welcome

We are a specialist boutique British manufacturer of solid brass door and window products, including the original iconic Princess and Constable Collections, along with custom accessories for electrical applications and bathrooms.

With a unique range of Collections dating back to architectural periods in the early 16th Century we offer a uniquely extensive range of Period, Heritage and Contemporary Door Furniture made from the purest Brass all hand worked, polished and finished on site... in England.

We work with professional and private clients worldwide to create elegant door and window furniture products for royal palaces, super yachts, stately homes and high specification private residences.

Here and on our website you can learn more about us, the work we do and how we can help you add those finishing touches of elegance

Our Timeline of Architectural Styles

Welcome to our Collections architectural timeline!

We are in a privileged position to be able to showcase to you our range of period, heritage, classic and contemporary Collections including the original iconic Princess and Constable Collections.

All of our Collections make reference to a particular historical architectural style, helping you choose the right finishing touches to your home.

Within our Collections you will find a number of product types so that you can add that luxury touch, not only to your doors!

Louis XV
Collection

Style: Baroque & Rococo
1590-1725

A Brief History

Louis XV, known as 'Louis the Well Beloved', was a monarch of the House of Bourbon who ruled as King of France and Navarre from 1 September 1715 until his death. He succeeded his great-grandfather Louis XIV at the age of five.

Louis XV architecture continued the classicism of the Baroque era, but with an increased elegance and lightness in scale and appearance. Rococo or "Late Baroque" was an 18th-century artistic movement and style, Rococo artists and architects used a more jocular, florid, and graceful approach to the Baroque. By the end of the 18th century, Rococo was largely replaced by the Neoclassic style. The word is seen as a combination of the French rocaille (stone) and coquilles (shell), due to reliance on these objects as decorative motifs. When the term was first used in English in about 1836, it was a colloquialism meaning "old-fashioned".

We have created a Collection of Louis XV products all hand crafted and cast from premium grade solid brass which covers door handles, door knobs, window fittings and a range of accessories, all of which are true to the character of their era. The products in this Collection carry the graceful detail typical to Louis XV design.

All Louis XV products are available in our extensive range of surface patinations.

All BrassArt products are available in any of our finishes. All finishes are either electroplated, un-lacquered living finishes or lacquered.

A ‘*’ denotes the product is lacquered. Products can be un-lacquered on request; a wax finish is preferable here.

Colour and texture variation is inherent in the creation of hand finished patinas; and once installed, touch, time and environment should lead to gradual wear and oxidization, lending character and elegance.
